

Aria A-3000.

The Aria A – 3000 DAB and FM Personal Digital Radio is a small and extremely light fully functioned Digital radio incorporating L band, as well as FM radio.

Incorporating 10 DAB and 10 FM presets, and designed for simplicity of use, the Aria product can be used by the least technical of users.

The stunning two line blue backlit display provides both station and multiplex information as well as battery life, sound shaping status, volume and reception conditions.

The product is supplied with high quality headphones, the cable being used as the antenna, and the A – 3000 is one of the most sensitive DAB products available, capable of reception in even marginal conditions especially whilst on the move.

Battery life of well over 10 hours is capable from only 2 x AA batteries, and the product is supplied with an external mains power supply.

All functions are controlled by a simple five button arrangement mounted on the front panel.

The portable is supplied in full colour packaging, complete with batteries, power supply, antenna headphones, and instruction manual.

Uniquely, the product is available with both Band 111 and Band L capability, allowing it to be taken all over Europe – particularly important on holiday!
